DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS

REGULATIONS REGARDING SURVEYS AND PLANS MADE IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THE "LAND REG- ISTRY ACT."

THE regulations herein contained for the conduct of surveys made under the provisions of the "Land Registry Act," and for the preparation of plans for deposit in the Land Registry Office, are issued under authority of section 80 of the "Land Registry Act," chapter 171, R.S.B.C. 1948.

These regulations are intended to be read in conjunction with the survey and plan requirements of said section 80 and other sections of the Act, and to be amplifications and not contraventions thereof.

The Registrar of a Land Registry Office shall be guided by these regulations when dealing with plans, other than explanatory plans, tendered for deposit in the said office.

These regulations shall come into effect on the 2nd day of April, 1951, and shall apply to all plans, other than explanatory plans, tendered for deposit after that date and to all surveys made under the provisions of the said "Land Registry Act" which are completed after that date.

REGULATIONS

Surveys

All surveys to which these regulations apply shall adhere to the following general requirements:—

1. The survey of the parcel or parcels created shall be closed about the outer limits thereof. A retracement shall be made of so much of the boundaries of the parcel being subdivided as is necessary to show the true position of the parcel being created with respect to those boundaries. Where landmarks of the said boundaries have been lost, re-establishment of the position of such boundaries shall be made in accordance with the principles set out in the "Official Surveys Act."

2. Where serious discrepancies or errors affecting the original boundaries shown in the Crown grant of the property being subdivided are found in making the subdivision, these shall be reported by the surveyor to the Surveyor-General in order that they may be noted in connection with the original field-notes.

3. Natural boundaries shall be traversed, with complete angular and linear measurements, and the traverse shall follow as nearly as practicable the true boundary; offsets shall be measured to the true boundary at intervals sufficiently close to permit the accurate plotting of the true boundary and the computation of areas.

4. Where lots of over 10 acres are created, the corner posts shall be referenced by bearing-trees, cairns, or mounds where practicable.

5. In railway land grants the original transfer of title from the railway company shall be based on a survey made in accordance with, and not lower in quality than, the requirements called for in the survey of Crown lands by section 7 of the "Land Act"; in all further subdivisions of such railway land-grant lands, as well as in all other surveys to which these regulations apply, the limit of error in any boundary shall not exceed one in twenty-five hundred ($1/2,500$), to which may be added for each boundary a constant of one-half tenth of a foot (0.05); in no parcel shall the closing error exceed the sum of the permissible errors in its perimeter.

6. For carrying out the provisions of subsection (6) of section 80 of the "Land Registry Act," the following types of posts or monuments are approved and are listed in the order, 1 to 6, of their superiority:—

Type 1: The standard concrete post as described in the Regulations Regarding Permanent Survey Monuments based on section 7 of the "Land Act."

Type 2: The standard rock post, obtainable from the Surveyor-General and Government Agents, to be cemented into a hole drilled in solid rock or in a permanent stone or concrete structure.

Type 3: A lead plug with copper centre, to be firmly set into a hole drilled in rock or concrete.

Type 4: The standard pipe post, obtainable from the Surveyor-General and Government Agents, to be planted in the ground flush with the surface thereof.

Type 5: A square iron bar with minimum face width of one-half inch, or angle-iron with minimum face width of three-quarters of an inch, not less than thirty inches in length, and firmly driven into the ground so that the post is either wholly below the surface of the ground or else protrudes not more than three inches above the surface. The bar or angle-iron shall be galvanized, painted or tarred, and may be stamped with a crown on two sides near the top, and may also bear the initials "B.C.L.S.," the surveyor's commission number, or, in the case of an official city survey, the word, "City," or, in the case of an official railway survey, the initials of the railway company; the bar may be stamped with letters or numbers to indicate the particular lot, parcel, or road whose boundary it denotes.

Type 6: A square wooden post not less than two and one-half inches across any face and not less than two feet in length, plainly marked with paint or carved to identify the parcel, and firmly driven into the ground.

7. In all surveys to which these regulations apply, excepting right-of-way and highway surveys, the external angles of the parcel being surveyed, each street intersection, each angle in street alignment, and the beginning and end of every curved boundary shall be marked or, where necessary, referenced by a post of Type 5 or by a superior type. Where such an angle or corner is marked by a wooden post planted on an earlier survey, that post shall be replaced or referenced by a post of Type 5 or by a superior type. Each of the remaining angles or corners shall be marked or referenced by a post of one of the approved types listed in section 6, the type to be used being that which in the surveyor's opinion is best suited to the conditions he finds on the ground, but in no case shall a wooden post of Type 6 be used, except when set on the true corner.

8. Where it is advisable to place monuments of Type 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5 on offsets from the true corner, a wooden post of Type 6 shall be placed at the true corner, unless some physical obstruction interferes therewith. Wooden reference posts, where set to denote the presence of posts of Type 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5, and which have, in themselves, no significance as boundary-markers, shall be of triangular cross-section, and shall be used only in connection with posts set on the true corner.

Plans

9. All plans to which these regulations apply shall be made on the dull side of durable tracing-linen of such quality that opaque and transparent reproductions may be made by either wet or dry processes without injury to the plan or to the printing-machine. All such plans shall be neat and clear and in fit condition for making reproductions.

10. The only handwriting on the plan shall be the signatures. All other words, letters, and figures shall be in neat draughtsman's lettering made with black India ink. Every plan shall bear a title indicating clearly and concisely the purpose of the plan and the correct description, including the registered plan number (if any) of the parcel or parcels being dealt with; the description shall follow that appearing in the certificate of title without using abbreviations such as "N.W.D." for "New Westminster District." This title shall be located outside of the space occupied by the plotted boundaries and preferably at the top of the plan.

11. A notation in the following form:—

Deposited in the Land Registry Office at _____
_____, B.C., this _____ day of _____,
19_____

shall be placed in the upper right-hand corner of the plan, one and one-quarter inches below the top margin thereof. Space in the form of a margin three inches wide (preferably along the right-hand edge of the plan) or in the form of a rectangle having an area not less than thirty square inches (preferably in the upper right-hand corner of the plan) shall be left for the use of the Registrar.

12. The line of red ink around the area dealt with by the plan, as required by subsection (2) of section 80, shall be exactly contiguous to and inside the boundary-lines of the said area. Dimensions and other details shall be so placed on the plan that they will not be obscured by the said red line and will show up clearly on reproductions. The reproductions supplied by the surveyor to the Land Registry Office shall be outlined in red in a similar manner to the original.

13. Dimensions shall be shown in feet and decimals of a foot; all angles and bearings shall be in degrees, minutes, and seconds.

14. The scale to which the plan is drawn shall be distinctly shown, and all dimensioned lines on the plan shall be true to scale. The only scales permissible are the following: One inch to 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 80, 100, 150, 200, 300, 400, 500, 600, 800, or 1,000 feet, except that in special cases consent may be obtained from the Registrar to prepare plans on a larger or smaller scale than the maximum and minimum respectively set forth in subsection (12) of section 80 of the "Land Registry Act."

15. The scale chosen shall be sufficiently large to show distinctly and without confusion every boundary-line with its course and length; in cases where the foregoing would necessitate an unduly large plan to permit the showing of a few details, the main body of the plan may be drawn to an authorized reasonable scale and the details shown on inserted enlargements; where convenient, unduly long lines may be broken.

16. The plan shall show in detail all the data or evidence used in arriving at the true outer boundaries of the land with which the plan deals. Sufficient data shall be shown on the plan to permit the calculation of a close about each and every parcel created thereby. The omission of dimensions or courses under subsection (4) of section 80 of the "Land Registry Act" is permissible only in cases where the same are obvious on inspection without calculation; the use of ditto marks is not permitted.

17. Where a curved boundary is used, such boundary shall be an arc of a circle, and the plan shall show the length of such arc, the length of the radius, and the bearings of the radii or of the tangents at the beginning and end of the curve. The dimensioning of curves in the degree system on other than railway right-of-way plans is not permitted; where railway measurement is used on a railway right-of-way plan, a general notation shall be placed on the plan that the centre-line chainage along curves is on 100-foot chords and fractions thereof, as this will make clear the apparent discrepancy between centre-line chainage and the lengths of the bounding arcs.

18. All dimensions and angular data shown on the plan shall be based entirely upon the survey and shall not be derived solely from prior registered plans nor from surveys or plans made by others. Where discrepancies between the dimensions shown on the plan tendered for deposit and corresponding dimensions shown on any plan or description which has previously been deposited are found to be greater than the maximum limits of error set out in section 5 of these regulations, the surveyor shall satisfy the Registrar that the dimensions and bearings shown on the plan tendered for deposit are correct, and that the landmarks found and on which the survey is based are in their original position.

19. The official designation, and registered plan number of each and every lot, road, or parcel, appearing on the plan shall be determined and clearly shown.

20. Full black lines shall be used to indicate the boundaries of all lots created by the survey and plan, and also to indicate the boundaries of surrounding or contiguous lots and parcels. Fine broken black lines and lettering shall be used to indicate the boundaries and numbers of any existing parcels which will be cancelled on the deposit of the new plan. Broken red lines shall be used to indicate traverses required by clause 3, and dimensions and bearings of each traverse course shall be shown either along the course or in tabular form elsewhere on the plan. Traverse stations shall be indicated by red circles, and the dimensions of offsets from such stations and from posts, to a natural boundary, shall be shown on the plan.

21. A subdivision plan which extinguishes any road or highway previously established, whether by notice in the Gazette, by the expenditure of public money, by dedication, or otherwise, shall show the boundaries of such road or highway in fine broken black lines.

22. Where under subsection (7) of section 80 the new parcels are grouped into blocks of lots, then the blocks themselves may be designated by one series of distinguishing numbers or letters, and the lots in each block may comprise an independent series for each block; surveyors are advised to confer with the Registrar prior to numbering new lots in a subdivision so as to avoid possible confusion with the numbering of adjacent or other parcels.

23. Where a post is not on the true corner, its definite position in relation to the corner must be shown by dimensions, with no ambiguity as to whether the offset distance is measured at right angles to or on a boundary or its production.

24. Bearing-trees, cairns, or mounds established shall be indicated on the plan. The distance and magnetic bearing from post to bearing-trees shall also be shown.

25. The following standard symbols to indicate on the plan the different types of posts and references shall be adopted:—

Type 1:	⊙ P. Con.
Type 2:	⊙ P. Rock
Type 3:	■ L.P.
Type 4:	● P.P.
Type 5:	● I.P.
Type 6:	○
Cairn:	C.
Mound:	M.
Bearing-tree:	B.T.

When a post of one of the types herein referred to has been found by the surveyor and the location of the post so found has been accepted by him as the location in which the said post is shown or described on an existing plan or document previously deposited in the Land Registry Office, the post so found shall be indicated on the plan by the letter "O" followed by the proper abbreviation, thus: "O.P.Con." for "old concrete post," "O.I.P." for "old iron post," etc. All symbols used shall be explained in the legend required on the plan. Circles or other marks usually indicating posts must not be shown at points on the plan where such do not exist on the ground, as the use of these symbols will be taken as prima-facie evidence of the asserted existence of such posts at the points so designated.

26. All bearings shown on the plan, other than those to bearing-trees, shall be astronomic and set out in the quadrantal system. To facilitate orientation, a north point shall be shown on the plan; the top of the plan should preferably be north, with lettering so arranged as to be easily read facing northerly on the plan.

27. Where new highways are created by the survey and plan, the naming of these highways shall be in continuation of existing named highways, or as directed by the approving officer, otherwise the new highways shall be shown merely as "Road," "Lane," etc., as the case may be, not as "Road Allowance" or "Lane Allowance."

28. No extraneous material is permitted on the plans, such as prices of lots or advertising-matter; the surveyor may append his firm's name and address.

F. O. MORRIS,
Surveyor-General.
